REGIE

CONTRACTS.

MR. SWANSON TO SECRETARY-OF-

AND THE REPLY OF THE LATTER.

This Government Powerless to En force the Provisions Which the Virginia Congressman Says Would Advance the Tobacco Interest.

DANVILLE, VA., April 6 .- (Special.)ongressman Swanson, of this district, on the 30th of March, addressed a communication to Secretary-of-State Hay on the subject of the regie tobacco contracts, with which the trade was made fully acquainted in newspaper publications several months ago. Before leav ing Washington for his home, at Chatham, Mr. Swanson discussed the subject with the Secretary, and the letter of the 30th ultimo is supplementary of the conversation then held. The reply of Secretary Hay, under date of the 3d instant, is rather disappointing, inasmuch as it practically states that this government is powerless to enfore the provisions which Mr. Swanson pointed out would be of advantage to the industry of this section. Mr. Swanson, in his letter to the Secretary, said in part:

"I write to urge you, when a commer cial treaty is made with Spain, to include in the treaty a provision granting to tobacco the right to be imported into that country like other agricultural productsfree from any governmental monopoly. "There are also difficulties threatening the tobacco industry in Japan. I under-stand that Japan is at present contem-plating making the sale of tobacco a gov-France and in some other countries. This action on the part of Japan would be a serious blow to the tobacco industry of my section, as we at present export there

"If the Japanese Government pursues the course of purchasing and seiling all of the tobacco imported into Japan it will finally result in the introduction of this system of governmental monopoly in tobacco in all of the countries of the Orient. I therefore urge you to take such steps as you can to induce the government of Japan to treat tobacco as it is treated in England and in Germany—that is, to ima tariff, and not to create a governmental monopoly,

"If I can be of any service, or if you lesire any further information on the subject, I would be delighted to go to Washington and discuss the matter more fully with you, and I will also take with me men engaged in the tobacco business, who can intelligently and fully explain

Secretary Hay replied as follows:

market for our own tobacco, and this government would be glad to use its in-fluence against the introduction of monopolies and the maintenance of those already existing, so far as it is possible in accordance with international usages but the question, as you know, belongs policy of each government, and, in that point of view, foreign intervention might e even prejudicial to existing interest of our people.

"Your letter will be preserved for furher consideration when negotiations are initiated with Spain.

"Very truly yours, (Signed) "JOHN HAY. "Hon, Claude A. Swanson, Chatham

While this matter is of interest as touch-ing the export of tobacco from other points in the State, it has excited un-AT 25c.-FIVE-FOOT STEP-LADusual attention in this city, which has built up a large export trade that is constantly increasing. Several Danville to-bacconists are now in the old world, among them an exporter who is opening he will visit before returning to this country.
